The Election.

No more beautiful day could have been desired for an election than yesterday proved to be. The voting commenced early and continued quietly OCTOBER 15 up to about 10 o'clock. At that time a number of soldiers were marched to the polls. Many of them were residents of this township before they enlisted, and no objection was raised or thought be had on application to the clerk at the Spencer of to all such voting. Many of them were just as well known not to be residents here, and an effort was made to keep such from voting. This occasioned ill feeling, and one or two quarrels were the result. The determination was manifest on the part of the party in power to do just as they pleased, and the active Democrats, seeing it was useless to contend, retired from the contest. A very large vote was polled. At one window 2,139, at another 1,839, and at the third 1,556. making 5,534 This is by 500 votes the largest vote ever cast here. What the result may be when the vote is counted out we have no means of knowing, and not being a Yankee cannot guess. The Republicans claim that their majority will reach 1,500. It may go to that, or more, for all the afternoon they had things their own way. It will be noon to day before the vote is counted out, unless the clerks work all night, and even then, as the ticket is long, they cannot get through much sooner.

Election Returns. MARION COUNTY .- We have only received full returns from one township, but we have intelligence that the Democratic majorities have increased in all the Democratic townships, and the Republican majorities have diminished where that party has been in the ascendant. in Warren township 420 votes were cast for State ticket-284 Democratic, 136 Republicanbeats Hardesty 209 votes; Butsch beats Meyer 160 votes for Treasurer; and Springsteen beats Robinson for Sheriff 155 votes. Lawrence township gives 285 Democratic to > Knox County -- A dispatch from Vincennes says Williams (Dem.) is elected Senator and Niblack (Dem.) Representative.

A most infamous attack was made vesterday, at the polls, upon Mr. John R. Elder, and one that every good citizen and right minded man will condemn. Mr. Elder was standing near one of the windows, acting as a challenger. A great number of soldiers were voting, and it was well known that numbers of them never had a residence in this county. Mr. Elder had challenged several, and the Judge at the window decided against their votes. He was civilly and mildly performing a duty that the law guarantees, and of soldiers, some twenty, perhaps, in number, were set upon him. Some one started the lie that he had made some remark favorable to Jeff. at the Battle of the Hatchie, near Davis, and the bullies fiercely attacked him. Several gentlemen interfered, among others Sheriff Wallace and General Elliott, and Mr. Elder followed by a brawling mob, succeeded in making his escape without serious injury. Sheriff Wallace and several of the police accompanied him to the City Building and remained until the crowd dispersed. Maj John Reinlander.

LETTER FROM GENERAL SCOTT MORE ABOUT THE LATE REBEL RAID.

Indian Troubles Terminated. ELECTION RETURNS

From Washington. WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 .- A rumor has been current to-night that a large force of rebels had crossed into Marvland and been defeated. There is not a word of truth in the report. It is said that the failure to arrest the escape of Stewart and his bold rebel cavalry in their dash into Pennsylvania through Maryland is attributed to the division commander at Poolesville, to whom instructions had been sent by McClellan stating that Stewart would probably retreat upon the line which he subsequently pursued, and suggested a disposition of forces which would inevitably cut off his passage across the Potomac. A strict investigation is now being conducted

The moment the fact that the rebels had crossed the river at McCoy's Ferry became known every exertion was made that was deemed necessary. The rebels at the mouth of the Monocacy at 9 o'clock vesterday morning had marched seventyeight miles within twenty-four hours without a change of horses or rest. At that point while attempting to cross they were repulsed and nine of them taken prisoners. The loss on our side

It is believed that the marches both of the rebel cavalry and our own are the most extraordinary on record, and they show most conclusively the perfect folly of attempting to pursue cavalry with infantry. Orders were sent to the different commanders to move and occupy the position assigned, but unfortunately at this particular time the majority of the cavalry force was absent on important du-

On an occasion of this kind, infantry, not being able to make a lengthy march, is of no practical use except in guarding fords near at hand. When Stuart crossed at McCoy's Ferry, he had fresh horses, they having been sent to that point in advance. His movements after crossing were rapid.
